Dr.'s Montrell and Robie Greene offer practical motivation for children and the “young at heart”.

Cleveland, MS - June 27, 2011 – Practical motivation and a sense of self are some of the missing ingredients needed to improve our children’s performance in school and in everyday life.

Research shows that the greatest academic and overall impact can be made in the early years of an individual’s life. Young people in our society need strong, practical motivation if they are to realize their true potential. Dr.’s Montrell and Robie Greene created “The Magic In Me Series”, three children’s books, to help address the needs of children and the young at heart.

The Magic in Me Series is designed to internally motivate students and general readers to maximize their potential, no matter the background or circumstances. The authors believe that everyone is special and can achieve success. The titles of the books are: Magical Me, Imagine Me, and Believing In Me.

Dr. Montrell Greene is the CEO of Empowerment 360 which is an educational consulting company that offers professional development and motivational speaking to schools, churches, and community organizations. He has been a two-time superintendent of education, principal, assistant principal, adjunct professor and choral music instructor.

Dr. Robie Greene is an assistant professor of education at Mississippi Valley State University. She has also been a science teacher and an assistant guidance counselor. They both hold a Ph.D. in Educational Administration from University of Southern Mississippi. They have two daughters named Nala and Michelle.

Dr.’s Montrell and Robie Greene are available for book signings. Montrell Greene also offers powerful motivational sessions for elementary, middle, and high schools to help students discover the “MAGIC” in themselves.

Samples of the book can be found at www.authorhouse.com. Suggested retail for the books are $12.95 and can be purchased directly from Author House for $8.95. Also, these books can be found in some local bookstores.
